HV calls publishers to order

words. In 1962 the Dutch Post issued a complete set of 15 stamps to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the birth of J.B. van der Zee. The stamps were used to pay postage on letters and parcels. The Dutch Post also issued a set of 15 stamps to mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of Piet Mondrian. The stamps were issued in 1970.

Stamps may have different themes and designs, but they all serve the same purpose: to raise revenue for the postal service. The design of stamps is influenced by a variety of factors, including historical events, cultural symbols, and artistic styles. The Dutch Post has a long history of issuing stamps with unique designs and themes. This page is an example of how stamps can be used to celebrate important moments in history and culture.
