

Master's 2020-2021

European Private Law

Are you up to the challenge and ready to become the very best private lawyer you can possibly be? Do you want to look beyond the letter of law and discuss the justice and politics implicit in the rules of private law? Learn how to resolve cross-border private law issues in multiple European jurisdictions? Then come and study European Private Law at the University of Amsterdam.

The Master's programme

In the European Private Law Master's at the Amsterdam Law School, students with a passion for private law experience a small-scale programme of the highest quality in a truly international environment. In this Master's programme, students examine the core issues of private law from a comparative and transnational perspective. Our students are trained to analyse and anticipate legal developments and understand them in the light of the socio-economic and political context in which they occur. This unique mix of positive law and theoretical/critical analysis helps students to develop a creative approach to private law issues and provides them with the knowledge and skills needed to develop their careers at the highest level of national and international practice.

Amsterdam Law Practice

The European Private Law Master's offers a tailor-made experiential education programme under the wing of the Amsterdam Law Practice (ALP). The European Private Law in Practice module provides students with an opportunity to learn about the EU's private law-making process in an interactive manner. Students are asked to formulate amendments to a legislative proposal in the field of European Private Law, debate their proposed amendments in a parliamentary setting, and lobby for their adoption. This enables students to enhance their knowledge of private law issues and strengthen their problem-solving, research, analytical, communication and teamwork skills.

Students who received their prior education in the Netherlands are exempted from this test. Please visit the website for more detailed information about English language proficiency requirements.

Career perspectives

Thanks to our ‘in context’ teaching method, our graduates are problem-driven, curious lawyers who can easily adapt to various kinds of legal practice and fulfil a range of functions. Our graduates work in international law firms throughout the EU and beyond, but also act as compliance officers and in-house lawyers for banks and other larger companies; others have taken on national and European government functions, joined

Yannic Duller, student European Private Law 2018-2019

“The LLM in European Private Law exposed me to interesting discussions on various aspects of EU and national legislation and also provided unique insights into legal theory, politics, and policy-making. The programme helped me become a more complete lawyer. Each course encouraged us to engage in critical analysis of the legal issues at hand and the solutions offered at law rather than just monotonously study legal provisions. This working method was possible thanks to the fact that we were taught in small groups by engaged lecturers who really cared about each student’s development and learning process.”
