

HOW TO FIND A ROOM IN AMSTERDAM: PRIVATE MARKET

Finding a room in Amsterdam is difficult, even for Dutch residents. There is a shortage of housing in general, and especially for students it is challenging to find an affordable room. The following tips can assist you when looking for a room in Amsterdam on the private market. Unless specified below, all websites have an English version.

Temporary accommodation (Hotels and Hostels)

In some situations you might want to look for temporary accommodation. For example, if you find a room with a starting date later than your UvA program starting date or if you need to cover time between two rental contracts. Finding temporary accommodation for a short period should not be too difficult. However, please note that during certain times of the year, all (affordable) rooms may be fully booked. We therefore strongly suggest to also look for temporary accommodation outside of Amsterdam because it will be easier and more affordable.

Platforms to book temporary accommodation:

- Hostelworld
- Hostelbookers
- Wimdu / Air BnB - online platforms with a wide range of private accommodation to rent temporarily in Amsterdam. Private parties offer rooms or whole apartments for rent, short term. Please note: no registration at the municipality possible! Stayokay \(2 locations in Amsterdam\)
- Generator Hostel
- Hotel Meininger
- Hans Brinker Hostel

In need of furniture for your unfurnished room or apartment?

- Student Furniture Holland - here you can rent furniture for the duration of your contract

Extend your network

In the end, the majority of the students find a room via their network. So let everyone, literally everyone you know in the Netherlands know you are looking for a place to stay. Your classmates, Facebook groups, Instagram and LinkedIn connections, friends of a friend, etc. Even the old school way of hanging up notifications on message boards throughout the campus, other student buildings, or in the supermarket, is still a common way to search for a room. Vice versa, you'll also find room offerings on these message boards as well.

Things to keep in mind:

- Generally, it is easiest as a student to find a single room with shared facilities in a house share, or a private studio at one of the commercial student housing providers;
- Check whether the rent is inclusive (inclusief) of gas, water, electricity etc. and factor this into the cost;
- Also consider a room in nearby towns, such as Diemen, Zaandam, Almere, Purmerend, Haarlem, or Hoofddorp;
- Consider a temporary contract or legal sublease (1-6 months) as a start;
- Registration: do not forget to register with the local municipality/change your address once you've found your new home;
- Manage your expectations: do not look for the perfect room type, price and location!

Tips, tricks & red flags to avoid scams

- If something looks too good to be true, it probably is.
- Do not transfer money before a viewing (especially via Western Union or PayPal). Always check the apartment and make sure the keys work, before handing over large amounts of money. If you can't do this yourself, again, see if you can ask someone else to help.
- Research advertised photos via google reverse image search.
- Google the landlord and address. Always good to read some reviews. And look for a KvK-number (check their registration with the Dutch Chamber of Commerce)
- Always ask for a contract. That gives you more security
- Be wary of illegal fees. Examples of illegal fees are: agency fees, disproportionately high administration fees or contract fees. A deposit of one or two months' rent is usually required. This is refunded if you leave the property in good condition.
- Be aware of illegal subletting, as this may affect your rights as a tenant
- If in doubt, check your rights. Association !Woon is specialized in providing legal advice.
